HOW TO USE THIS PDF

Read it on screen or print the whole thing. Worksheet pages are designed to be printed again and again, so feel free to print extra copies of any tracker you use often. Tip: print at “Actual size” on US Letter paper.

How to Use This Record Book

Good records help your veterinarian, your pet sitter and you make better decisions — especially in an emergency.

This book gathers your pet's important health information in one place. Print one complete set per pet, keep it in a folder or binder, and bring it to every vet visit. Print extra copies of any log page as it fills up.

Tips for great records

Write it down right away

Fill in the log at the clinic or as soon as you get home, while details are fresh. Ask the clinic for a printed visit summary and staple it behind the log.

Copy exactly from the label

For medications, copy the drug name, strength and instructions exactly as written on the prescription label by your veterinarian. Never guess or change a dose.

Track trends

Weigh your pet monthly. Small, steady changes in weight, appetite, thirst or energy are easier to spot on paper — and can be early signs worth mentioning to your vet.

Keep copies

Snap photos of each completed page so you have a backup on your phone for travel, boarding and emergencies.

What to bring to every appointment

- ☐ This record book
- ☐ List of current medications and supplements
- ☐ Food brand, amount and treats
- ☐ Notes or videos of any symptoms
- ☐ Fresh stool sample, if requested
- ☐ Questions written down
- ☐ Insurance information
- ☐ Pet on leash or in a secure carrier

Common vaccines you may see

Species	Often considered core	Lifestyle-based (your vet decides)
Dog	Rabies; DHPP / DAPP (distemper, adenovirus/hepatitis, parvovirus, parainfluenza)	Leptospirosis, Bordetella (kennel cough), Lyme disease, canine influenza
Cat	Rabies; FVRCP (feline viral rhinotracheitis, calicivirus, panleukopenia)	Feline leukemia (FeLV) — commonly recommended for kittens and outdoor cats

Vaccine requirements and schedules vary by age, lifestyle, local risk and state law. Your veterinarian will recommend the right plan for your pet.

Important: This guide is general education, not veterinary advice; consult your veterinarian about your own pet's health, diet, medications, and any symptoms that concern you. Seek immediate veterinary care for emergencies such as trouble breathing, collapse, suspected poisoning, repeated vomiting, or inability to urinate.

Personality & care notes

Likes, dislikes, fears, handling tips, favorite treats — helpful for sitters and new vets.

Vaccination Log

Copy details from your vet's records or the vaccine certificate. Keep rabies certificates with this book.

Date given	Vaccine	Manufacturer / lot #	Given by (clinic / vet)	Next due	Reaction?

WATCH AFTER VACCINES

Mild tiredness or soreness at the injection site for a day or two can occur. Contact your veterinarian promptly for facial swelling, hives, vomiting, difficulty breathing, or collapse.

Vet Visit Log

Record every appointment — check-ups, sick visits, dental cleanings and emergencies.

Date	Clinic / vet	Reason for visit	Weight	Findings / diagnosis	Treatment & follow-up	Cost

Medication Log

Includes prescriptions, supplements and topical treatments. Always follow your veterinarian's instructions and the label.

Medication / supplement	Strength & directions (as on label)	Reason	Prescribed by	Start	End	Refill due

Important: This guide is general education, not veterinary advice; consult your veterinarian about your own pet's health, diet, medications, and any symptoms that concern you. Never give human medications to pets unless your veterinarian specifically instructs you to — some common ones (such as acetaminophen, ibuprofen and naproxen) can be very dangerous to dogs and cats.

Weight Tracker

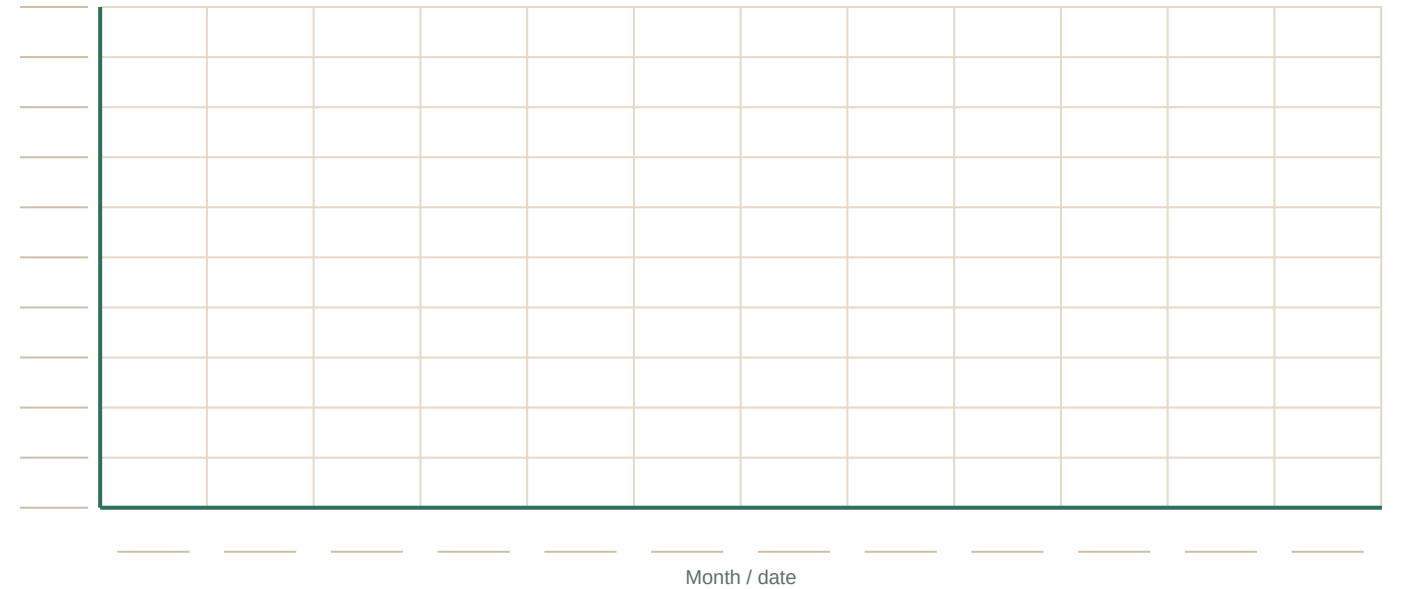

Weigh at the same time of day on the same scale. Ask your vet what a healthy weight and body shape look like for your pet.

Date	Weight	Notes

Date	Weight	Notes

Weight chart

Write weight values up the left side (e.g., in 1-lb steps for cats and small dogs, 5-lb steps for large dogs) and dates along the bottom. Plot a dot for each weigh-in and connect them. Draw a dashed line at your target weight.

Target weight _____

Body condition score (from vet) _____

Parasite Prevention Log

Your veterinarian will recommend products and timing based on your pet's age, weight, lifestyle and region.

Flea & tick / heartworm prevention

Date given	Product (as prescribed/recommended)	Protects against	Given by	Next due	Notes

Deworming & parasite testing

Date	Test or treatment	Result	Next due	Notes

REMINDER

Dogs are commonly tested for heartworm yearly, and many vets recommend year-round prevention. Some flea products made for dogs are toxic to cats — only use products labeled for the species and weight of your pet, as directed by your vet.
